

2012-2013

Education Service Center Region XI is addressing the challenge that districts and campuses face on a daily basis in ensuring that all students are college and career ready. Planning and executing a college and career readiness plan requires a systemic understanding of the process and innovative approaches to problem solving. ESC Region XI is offering a series of focused professional development sessions designed for teachers, administrators, central office staff, counselors, and parent involvement personnel who plan campus and/or districtwide programs focused on post-secondary readiness and opportunities.

Counseling for College and Career Readiness

Counselors will be introduced to various processes and procedures that will assist them with preparing students for college and careers. They will be introduced to various low-cost and free tools/resources that can be used to implement campus college-ready goals. Counselors will be given information on free summer programs offered through state universities and the opportunity to network with other counselors.
